The Republican County Machine Leaders Choose an Eleven and Kick a Goal Home-where With the Mayoralty Nomination,

The thirty Chairmen of the district delegations to the Republican City and County Con vention met in parlor D R of the Fifth Avenue Hotel at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon to discuss possible candidates for places on the ticket to be nominated at Grand Opera House Hall next Tuesday night. George W. Wan-maker of the Eighteenth district presided. and William H. Bellamy of the Twenty-third WAS Secretary.

It took thirty minutes to tell the gentlemen assembled that the proposition to fuse on city and county nominations with the County Democrate and anti-anappers had been rejected, and that Jesse Seligman, Jacob H. Schiff, and Edwin Einstein, all of whom had been asked to accept the Mayoralty nomination, had declined the proffered honor, and to appoint a committee of eleven to hunt for men who will accept place on a straight Republican ticket.

This committee is composed of George W. Wanmaker of the Eighteenth district, Cornelius N. Bliss of the Eleventh, Jacob M. Patterson of the Thirtieth, though ostensibly of the Tenth; James A. Blanchard of the Twenty-first, John Reisennecker of the Nineteenth. Charles H. Murray of the Third, Cornelius Van Cott of the Eighth, William Brookfield, William H. Bellamy, and David Mitchell of the Twenty-third, and John Collins of the Fourth.

These men will hustle around until 5 o'clock next Tuesday afternoon hunting for men who will consent to lead the Republican forlors hope in this city. Then they will meet in the Fifth Avenue flotel and fix up their slate for presentation to the Convention which will be held that evening.

Fifth Avenue Hotel and fix up their slate for presentation to the Convention which will be held that evening.

An effort has been made to get a representative Hobrew to take the Mayoralty nomination, but as neither Mr. Seligman, Banker Schiff, nor ex-Congressman Linstein would accept it, the leaders are discussing the advisability of hunting for Knickerbockers, and naming either ex-Senator Lispenard Stewart or Col. S. Van Rensselser Cruger for the place.

There has been considerable speculation about the possible Republican leaders in the new Assembly districts. As it is the custom to send the district leader as Chairman of the delegation to the County Convention, the Chairmen this year have been considered in some quarters as the probable district leaders.

In the case of some districts this assumption is said to be correct; in others not. Wilson Berryman will probably be the leader in the new Seconteenth, John Little in the Twentieth, and Edward Dubois in the Twenty-lifth. In the Twenty-civith, Twenty-third, Twenty-sixth, and Twenty-eighth there will probably be contests. In the latter district the fight is between Internal Revenue Collector Michael Revenue Collector it is naid, in favor of the former.

BLUE FOR ANTI-TAMMANY MEN. No Fusion Ticket and No Republican Cash in Their Campaign.

The scheme to secure a fusion with the Republicans on a county ticket against that to be named by Tammany Hall has fallen through, and the anti-Tammany Democrats who were its promoters are disconsolate. Thomas C. Platt was supposed to be in favor of such a ticket, and is said by the Democrats who desired it to have urged the Republican local machine to make the combination. But Mr. Platt's opinion was not shared by the boys -the district leaders like Johann Simpson. George Hilliard, John B. Nugent, Barney Biglin, and their fellows in control of the county organization-and they put their veto on it. declaring in favor of a straight ticket.

The Democrats who were pulling the strings for the fusion ticket said that Mr. Platt defor the fusion ticket said that Mr. Platt de-clared that he could do nothing but advise; that he was not a boss, and if his advice was unheeded he could do nothing to bring about the result sought.

The County Democrats and anti-snappers are up a stump. They are left on their own resources, which are not considerable since ox-Mayor Grace desorted them. With no pos-sibility of electing one candidate on a general ticket, all their enthusiasm has vanished. The district leaders in the Assembly districts where the anti-Tammany vote is strongest, who had entertained hope of electing their As-sembly and Aldermanic candidates, felt very blue yesterday. In other districts where it was proposed to fight valiantly with local can-didates, all the fighting spirit seems to have disappeared with the prospect of having a good bit of Rupublican money to spend on election day. election day.
The County Democracy Committee of Thirty, which has delayed action on nominations, will meet in Cooper Union at 4% o'clock to-day.

when he seemed to be the only candidate in the race. Yesterday Commissioner of Public Works Gilroy loomed into greater prominence as a possible candidate than ever before, and both were rather overshadowed by Robert B. Roosevelt, Treasurer of the Democratic Na-Roosevelt, Treasurer of the Democratic National Committee and ex-Minister to the liague. There has been occasional mention of Mr. Roosevelt's name in connection with the Tarmanny Hall nomination for Mayor, but it was not until yesterday that he loomed.

As matters stood yesterday there seemed to be but two nominations definitely determined on by the Tammany Hall leaders, so far as the city and county ticket is concerned. They were those of Frank T. Fitzgerald for additional Surrogate and Rufus B. Cowing for City Judge.

THE COLORED BROTHER.

Both Parties Setting Up Bureaus to Gather

Both the Democrats and the Republicans are preparing with unusual energy to capture the colored vote. As a result of the conferences which have been in progress for some time a Republican National Headquarters for this purpose has been opened at 226 Seventh avenue, with the Rev. Dr. W. B. Derrick, the missionary Secretary of the Colored M. E. Church, in charge. Dr. Derrick is an ex-member of the Republican State Committee. He help him in the Rev. Dr. W. Wisher, paster of the Mount Olivet Bartist Church, and the Rev. E. Lyons of St. Mark's M. E. Church, Docu-ments and speakers will be sent out from the headquarters.

The Democrats have not decided just where their colored propaganda will be, but it is to be in charge of R. G. Still of Philadelphia. He will have as helpers J. A. Ross, editor of the National Freeman; F. C. Lawson of the Sagamore Club. Harlem, and Charles A. Brown. Document Clork at Albany. The editorial staff of the National Freeman has also been strengthened by the accession of H. C. C. Astwood to Louisiana. Mr. Astwood has just returned from St. Domingo, where he has been United States Consul for eight years.

THIS IS THE INDUSTRIAL ALLIANCE. McMackin and Parsy Boody and a Lot o

The Industrial Alliance, whatever it may be, announced that it would hold a County Convention in the main hall of the Cooper Union last evening. At that hour about twenty-five people stood outside waiting for the principal doors to open, and inside the hall were about a dozen policemen, as many reporters, and two men in the auditorium. In the antercom the leaders were busy sorting Republican campaign literature which lay around in stacks. Prominent among them were John McMackin, Patrick Doody, and other lights of the Coogan Mayoralty campaign. in which McMakin had a better time than Coogan.

At 9 o'clock the doors were opened, and five minutes later sixty-four people were counted in the hall. A noisy brass band came in and played the Star-Spangled Banner. No persons were supposed to be admitted but "delegates." and McMackin hustled several people

Then others came in by groups, presumably representing Assembly districts. The first group were nominally from the Fourth Assembly district, bearing a banner with the device. Industrial Alliance of the Fourth Assembly bly district, bearing a banner with the device.

"Industrial Alliance of the Fourth Assembly District." The pattern of all the banners was exactly the same except the number of each Assembly district.

There appeared to be a stock of banners in the hall, for a number of groups of people who came on without them were provided with them, until banners representing twenty-four districts waved above the supers, and the hall was three-fourths filled.

A flute band and a man with a tin horn came in next and the meeting was onened. Pictures of Benjamin Harrison and Whitelaw Reid looked down from behind the platform, on which were scated a number of persons.

The Chairman of the meeting, which was called to order at 9:15, was Joseph Wilkinson. He denounced Democrats and Mugwumps, especially Mugwumps.

"I know of no workingman being a Mugwump," he said. "They belong to the luxuriant class. They can buy their dude clothing and it may be a good thing for them. but it ain't the thing for workingmen. We want the McKinley bull to stand. Houd theers, We know how Mr. Peck, the head of the Bureau of Labor Statisties, was pounded for telling the truth."

Resolutions calling on the meeting to support Harrison and Reid were out and carried. William B, Clarke, the Secretary, was called upon to read the platform, He had some difficulty in articulating and the assemblage roared with laughter. So he skipped most of the platform and it was "adopted as read."

The principal speaker was Thomas Fitch, a California lawyer. He waved the bloody sairt and paralyzed the supers with things like this: The Soutwestern Democrat as a presistoric reic of the conditions which existed before the war. He is an account and continues a presisted before the war. He is an account of the conditions which existed before the war. He is an account of the conditions which existed before the war. March 4 next.

Chairman Fitch said yesterday regarding Davenport's refusal to testify:

Universelve been of the opinion that Mr. Davenport would submit to an examination in regard to what he does not be enver been of 1888, the sums of morey held in the election of 1888, the sums of morey held from the feedback of the election of 1888, the sums of more and from other Republican sources, and the work which he is doing now for his party with the machinery furnished him at the expense of the general public. He will take almost an chance first.

His main difficulty in an examination would be with the financial side of his operations. Since Mr. Harrison's election Bavenport has managed to collect at the Treasury Department for all leged services, for which he did not dare to attempt to collect a doilar during the four years of Mr. Cleveland's adoitnistration, the great sum of $10,176.

BROOKLYN REPUBLICANS.

THEY MAKE NOMINATIONS IN PIVE CONGRESS DISTRICTS.

Capt. W. H. Grace, an Old Blaine Shouter, bas a Big Mejority to Fight in the First -Charles B, Hobbs Named in the Fourth. The Republicans in Brooklyn made five Congress nominations yesterday. Capt. William H. Grace, the stalwart President of the Home and Country Protective Brotherhood, which was organized four years ago, was named in the Second district as the competi-tor of John M. Clancy, the veteran Democratic campaigner. Capt. Grace has a hard race be-fore him, as the Democratic majority in the district is overwhelming.

The Captain has been a bustling political figure for several years, and at one time aspired to the control of the Republican organization in Kings county. He had a place in the Custom House as far back as Gen. Grant's first Administration, and once made him-self famous in a fisticust encounter on Broadway. He has been engaged in the real estate way. He has been engaged in the real estate business for several years and is wealthy. He is credited with possessing a strong hold on the Irish-American voters, and is a great admirer of James G. Biaine.

So far the Republicans have not been able to discover any ambitious statesman willing to enter the field against Gen. Isaac S. Catlin. the Democratic candidate in the Third district, and the Convention adjourned last night without making a nomination. Either ex-Assemblyman George L. Weed or George A. Price will probably be induced to accept the nomination.

will probably be induced to accept the nomination.

In the Fourth district Charles B. Hobbs, a son of Major E. H. Hobbs, was nominated to do battle with Mr. Coombs. He is a lawyer and is not yet quite 30 years old. Like his father he has been active in Republican politics in the Twenty-fourth ward, but he is not formidable enough to give Mr. Coombs much anxiety in this strong Democratic district.

Charles G. Bennett, President of the Evergreens Cemetery Association, was nominated in the Fifth district—the only district in Kings county which has a natural Republican majority. He is a son of the late George C. Bennett, the founder of the Brooklyn Times. He has not participated in the factional sambbles of the Republican organization, but at the same time owes his nomination to the friendship of Revenue Collector Ernst Nathan. The Democrats will make a stubborn fight with Capt. John H. Graham to capture the district.

His friends charge County Treasurer Adams and Peter Sutter with having brought about Capt. The hostility of the French Democrats will not extend beyond the ticket for Supervisor. or Supervisor.

for Supervisor.

The Sixteenth Assembly district, comprising the Twenty-third and Twenty-flith wards, has an overwhelming Republican majority, but owing to the bitter faction fight in the Republican ranks it may be won this year by the Democratic candidate. The Nathan faction has supreme control in the district, and nominated Col. Arnold Wagner in such an irregular manner that an independent Republican candidate will probably be entered in the race. This, it is believed, will give the Democratic candidate a good fighting chance.

GREAT DAMAGE BY A CLOUDBURST IN NORTHERN ITALY.

Buildings of the Columbus Exhibition in Genea Destroyed—The Czar Restricting Diplomatic Intercourse with Germany, GENOA, Oct. 14.-The provinces of Genon and Porto Maurizia have been partly devastated by a cloudburst. The rain began several days ago and has continued almost without cessation. Last night and early this morning the storm gathered in unprecedented violence, filled the streams, flooded villages, and swept many houses from their foundations. In Busalla and Mahnanego trucks, farming implements, and outhouses were swept through the streets. Bridges were carried away and travel on most of the country roads was rendered

Many miles of railway are under water. On the line to Giovo traffic has ceased entirely, as the tracks have been flooded, and at one as the tracks have been flooded, and at one spot a cave-in of the bank has blocked the road for half a mile. In this city the damage to buildings has been considerable. Several of the smaller pavillons of the Columbus Fxhibition were wrecked and the larger buildings were started on their foundations. Several persons are reported to have been drowned in the country districts, but as all regular communication has been suspended the reports cannot be confirmed.

LIBERALS LOSE A SEAT.

A Majority of Three Against the Son of Mi Lawson of the Telegraph.

LONDON. Oct. 14,-The election in the Circuester division of Gloucestershire has resulted in the victory of Col. Chester Master, Unionist, over Harry Lawson, Liberal. The vote stood 4,277 for Col. Master, against, 4,274 for Mr. Lawson. The vacancy was caused by the death of Mr. A. B. Winterbotham, Liberal, who death of Mr. A. B. Winterbotham, Liberal, who at the last general election was returned over Col. Chester Master by a vote of 4,207 to 4,054. The capture of this seat by the Unionists brings the Unionists up even with the Liberals in the matter of representation from Gloucestershire, each having three seats. The defeat of Mr. Lawson probatly was due to the fact that he went to the Cirencester constituency as a complete stranger, after having been defeated in the West St. Paneras division at the last general election, as well as to the bad impression made by the son's appearing as a rabid Gladstonian while the father was winning a peerage by attaching his newspaper, the Telegraph, and all his other interests to the fortunes of the Tories.

The campaign was hard fought on both sides, both Gladstonians and Unionists having sent most of their good speakers to the constituency. The fact that the Liberal majority, reduced from 747 in 1885 to 153 in 1892, has been wiped out in such a lot contest, caused great rejoicing among the Tories.

A Tearful Parting with the Rev. Thomas

LONDON, Oct. 14 .- The departure of the Rev. Thomas Spurgeon on a voyage to New Zealand to-day afforded an occasion for a remarkable exhibition of hero worship on the part of his admirers. On the steamer which bore Spurgeon and his friends to Graves and the preacher vas overwhelmed with affectionate farewells. was overwhelmed with affectionate farewells. He finally delivered a short speech of thanks, at the conclusion of which many persons went, and some of the women present were with difficulty restrained from embracing the minister. All the party then gathered in the saloon, and Mr. Spurgeon wrote his name in everybody's hymn book as a souvenir. On nearing the steamer which was to convey Mr. Spurgeon to New Zealand all on board the tender sang the hymn "God be with you till we meet again." The volces of the singers were frequently broken with sobs. The hymn "There will be no parting there" was sung as the steamer moved off, bearing away the popular son of England's most famous pulpit orator.

Suspected Jewelry Thirtes, Lendon, Oct. 14.-Two men suspected of seing American "crooks," giving their names as James Connell and Henry Raymond, were charged to-day at the Marlboro Street Police Court with loitering in Bond street with intent to commit a felony. Raymond was also charged with having stolen pearls and other articles of value from Jeweller Streeter. It appears from the evidence given that the prisoners, in company with a woman, were in the habit of visiting the fashionable jewelry stores and inspecting valuables. After these visits articles of value were generally missing and the Scotland Yard officials were notified. The Scotland Yard people communicated with the American volice, giving a description of the suspected men, with the result that a blotograph of Raymond was sent them. They arrested the men, and in so doing it is feared acted too hastily, as they had not got a complete chain of evidence against them and it is believed that it will not be possible to convict them on the present charges. The men are considered among the most clever in their profession. After to-day's hearing they were remanded for further examination. articles of value from Jeweller Streeter. It

It transpires that the Major recently hired men to eject his wife from her own house, and failed in the attempt. She procured a summons, which was returnable at the Wandsworth Police Court to-day. The Major failed to appear, and counsel stated as a reason for his absence the fact that he was undergoing a fortnight's imprisonment for drunkenness and disorderly conduct at Cambridge. The Major has already spent some time at the Bediam Lunatic Asylum. The case was adjourned pending the Major's liberation.

The Anarchist Prancols Arraigned. LONDON. Oct. 14.-Francois, the Anarchistarrested at the East End yesterday for complicity in the Rue Magenta outrage in Paris last April, was arraigned in the Bow Street Police Court this morning. He denied that he had been in any way responsible for the wrecking of M. Very's wine shop. "If I had been guilty." he said, "I would have gone singing to the scaffold as did Rava-chol."

The detectives who captured Francois testi-fied that his paramour was not less desperate than he in her attempts to save him. When they searched the lodgings she came at them with a loaded revolver and was disarmed with great difficulty.

NOW, LOOK AT THIS, MR. PEARCE. If You Won't Take Your Wife to the The aire, Some One Eine Will.

When George Pearce, a salesman, of Myrtle and Evergreen avenues, Williamsburgh, re-turned home on Thursday night he found his wife absent and their two children asleep in bed. On the kitchen table was a note left by Mrs. Pearce, saying that she had gone to the theatre. Pearce suspected that his wife was in the company of a man, and he determined to find her. He went to several Williamsburgh theatres, and finally saw her in the Lee Ave-nue Academy of Music. Mrs. Pearce was with Charles Hanelsen, a wealthy fish dealer in Broudway, near Ellery street. Pearce waited outside of the theatre until the performance was over. His wife came out leaning on the arm of the fish dealer. Pearce followed them to the corner of Roebling street and Division avenue, where he tapped Hanelsen on the shoulder.

"What do you mean by walking with my wife?" he said.

"She asked me to walk with her, and I am going to take her to the car." replied Haneisen.

A FIGHT FOR A CAUSING.

Realdents of Sou h Amboy and a Rallroad

SOUTH AMBOY, Oct. 14.-The fight between the town of South Ambov and the officials of the New York and Long Branch Railroad Company for the possession of the crossing at Henry street, just north of the depot, was renewed between 2 and 3 o'clock this morning. The aggressive move was made by the men employed under James Collins, the Street Commissioner of the town. The men marched to the disputed crossing, and, after knocking down the fence erected by the railroad company so as to prevent the people from using the crossing, they ripped up twenty-five feet of the railroad platform. The spot was then filled in with sand from The spot was then filled in with sand from the bench south of the town, and the surface was made level. When the railroad men reached the scene an hour after daylight they were surrised. While the railroad men were debating what they ought to do, Street Commissioner Collins erected two nosts and fastened on each: "Notice! This street was opened this fourteenth day of October, 1832, for public use, James Collins, Street Commissioner." The citizens gathered in highered.
